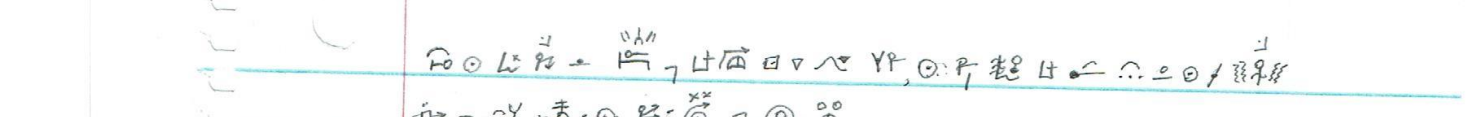
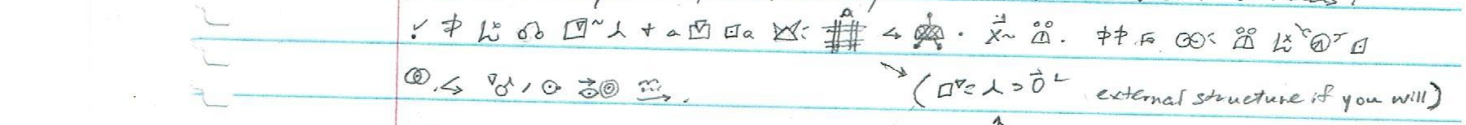
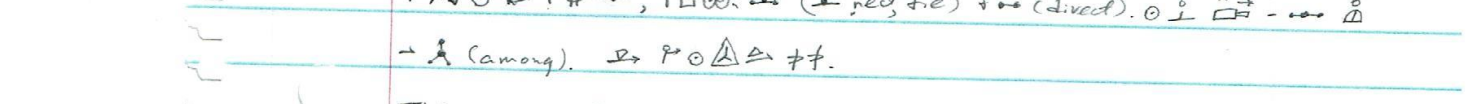
New Connections Among Ideas



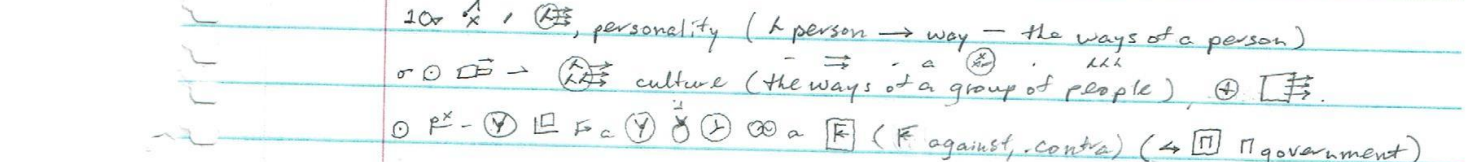
Although I have failed to arouse much interest in this strange project, I don't care much because every day I am thrilled by the power + beauty of my exploratory creations in the world of ideas.



Each id has both internal structure and a place in a crystalline matrix or network of related ideas. Ids for similar ideas have components in common, or such is my aim anyway.



This morning I came up with ⟷, between, very much similar to ⟷ connect (⟷ connect, tie) + ⟷ direct. I then extended the ⟷ idea to ⅄, among. Thus do I systematize ids.



Another example is personality, which I extend to culture or culture. I use a large square for a large bounded space, like country (country, government - against, contra government).
